Foreword

Through vivid pictures and prose we have attempted to chronicle the cherished events of the year past which are of significance to the faculty and student body of Hillside.

It is said that memory fails and that it is well to have a record in black and white to authenticate the stores of youth that otherwise would dim in the inexorable passing of the years. Therefore, we feel that the time and effort that produced this book is justified if it serves to recall a precious memory . . . a moment or an hour . . . a dear friendship, or a recollection of joy that was ours in this class of 1962.

Dedication

We are proud to dedicate this edition of the HORNET to one who has worked faithfully in order to make it possible. We feel deeply indebted to Mr. Turner because, had it not been for his untiring efforts and his determination, the first issue probably would not have been published. He knows all the problems that are involved in such an undertaking and our success has depended on his ability to follow through on well-planned strategy.

LET'S KEEP THIS ROOM AS CLEAN AS
WE WOULD IN OUR HOMES

There have been many times when all our efforts seemed futile, but Mr. Turner, with his quiet, unassuming manner, has always been ready to encourage us and to advise us of our next move.

We commend him, therefore, for a job well done, and we want him to know that we will always appreciate the many hours of happiness that our yearbooks will afford us.

The class of Sixty-Two joyfully dedicates this HORNET to Mr. Nathaniel Benjamin Turner.

School Song

Hillside High, O Hillside High,
We cherish thee with honor.
Though some day we're far away,
We'll praise thee with our hearts.
We'll be true forever,
To a school so dear--
You will live forever,
Through all eternity.
Dear old Hillside how we love thee,
How we love the blue and white.
From us thy name will never depart,
Never will it die.
Our hearts are gleeful,
Filled with joy and pride,
Your memory lingers always,
Three cheers,
Three cheers for HILLSIDE HIGH.

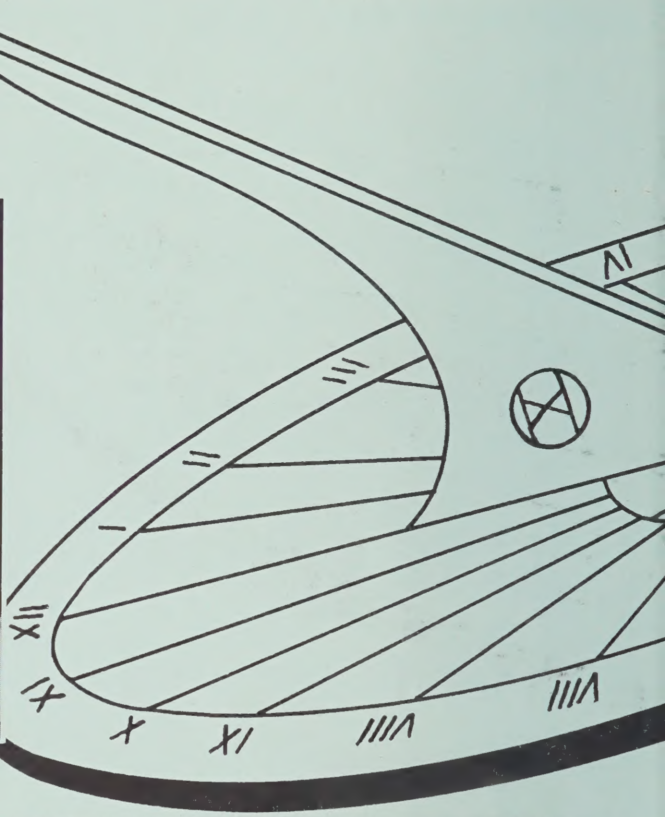
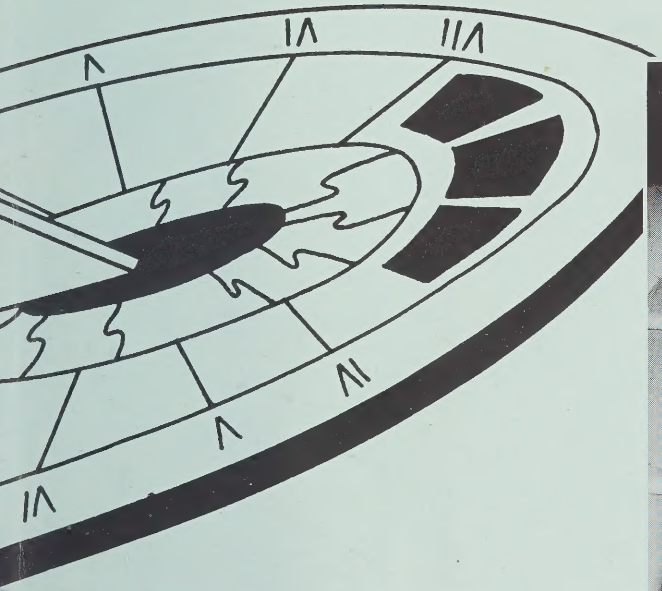
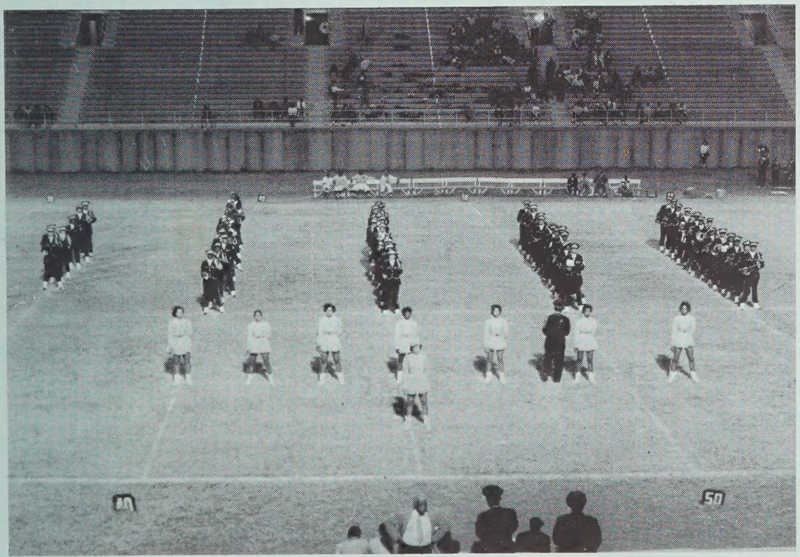
The Time Of



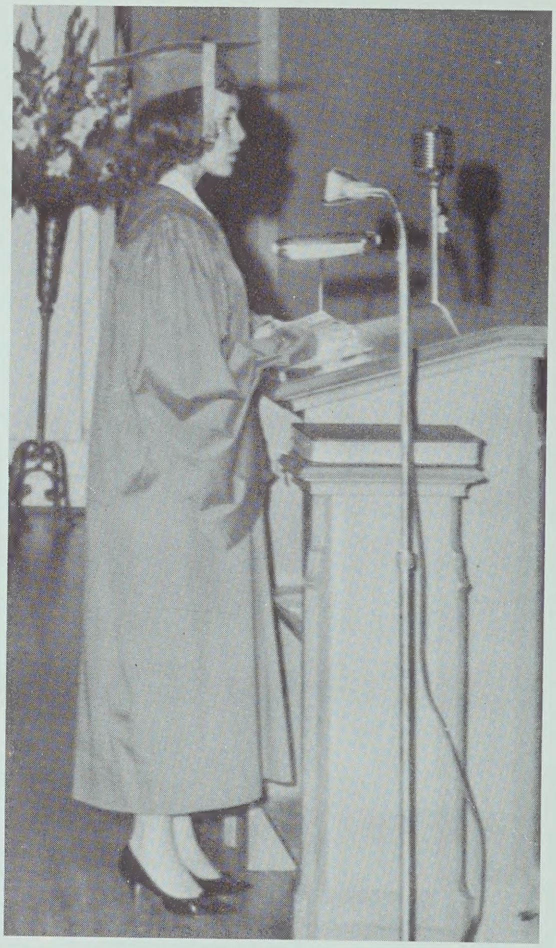
Our Lives





. . . And Now . . .

. . . the day so long awaited is here . . . and we are overwhelmed with mixed emotions. We are thrilled at the thought of the challenge the future holds, and we are eager to experience it, but we are a bit reluctant to depart from the familiar things. Faces and places, dear friends and all that we revered, we shall leave.



For it is written that "even this shall pass away" and we resolutely face the inevitable future that these four years at Hillside have prepared us to meet.

A Message to the Students

Although time and space will not permit me to acknowledge all the good deeds done by the class of '62, we hope that future students and future generations may know that in many respects you have been an outstanding group.

It is true that you are finishing high school, but in reality you are actually beginning your career. You have had an interesting history as a class. Now go forth into the world endowed with the spirit of dignity, loyalty, helpfulness, love and cooperation attained while you have attended the schools of Durham.

There is no man living who cannot do MORE than he thinks he can. If at first you DO succeed, try something harder. Do as well as you can today, and perhaps tomorrow you may be able to do better.

In a recent issue of the NEW YORK TIMES, the editor stated something that I would like to pass on to you. "If I were to set down a list of those old-fashioned virtues that still hold good, it would read something like this: Honesty, Industry, Resourcefulness, Courage, Good Manners, Adaptability, Dependability--and Hard, Hard Work." I commend these virtures to you.

This is the fourth edition of the HORNET. The publication has as its purpose to provide an outlet for creative expression among students and to offer continuous enjoyment to all. Appreciation is herewith extended to all students and teachers who have worked faithfully in its production.

A Moment to Reflect

This is your kaleidoscope of colors, people, and places, memories and pledges carried for interminable annoying superior seniors. A kaleidoscope of colorful ingredients and characters with changing people who leave, come, and go with people you have never met and some you will never forget, long after graduation.

To the class of 1962, we present the highlights of your high school days. The things that have happened during those years now bring back old memories. You became orientated into high school life at James A. Whitted Jr. High School, where you were then classified as freshmen. Leon V. Creed served as your president of the student council; Valjeanne Jones was secretary and "Biff" Henderson was treasurer. Your classmates had much social ability. Many vocal groups were organized. Though most of your class exhibited good potentials, Jeannette Walker, Ina Fletcher, and Shirley Traylor graduated from Whitted with highest honors and were presented the Scholastic Average Awards.

With great anticipation you entered Hillside High in September, 1959. You got off to a good start. Your sophomore year, 10-1 won second place in the Combined Charities Drive. Reigning as "Miss Hillside" that year was Mary Lipscomb from 10-2 homeroom and Gayle Ray was her attendant. In the Science Fair of that year, Jeannette Walker, Jane Sampson, Mary Lipscomb, and Mildretta Chatman won top prizes in the Biology Division. Your sophomore class was also very athletic. Raymond Johnson, Arthur Spears, Ronald Brown, Arthur Williams, Albert Daniels, James Black, Kenneth Harris, Thomas Cameron, John Faulkner, George McFadden, and James Devone joined the football team. Three of your classmates, Earl Mason, Thomas Cameron, and John Faulkner made the varsity basketball team and proved to be very good. "Biff" Henderson, Dwight Midgette and James Pippen joined the varsity team. That year, Cheryl Smith was the only sophomore of Hillside's high-stepping majorettes. Among you also, were the star performers of Mr. G's Swing School. Wanda Jean Marshall and Leon Creed were Hansel and Gretel in the play.

Realizing the great task before you, Miss A. R. Cruse, junior class coordinator, got you off to a good start in your junior year. You elected the following for junior class officers: Leon Creed, President; Valjeanne Jones, vice-president; Marie Shaw, secretary; Jewelle Merritt, assistant secretary; Gwendolyn Greene, reporter; Annie Smith, chairman of the social committee; and Wanda Marshall, chairman of the invitation committee. Having much faith in the leadership abilities of your classmates, you elected Leon Creed, Valjeanne Jones, and Saundra Criss for vice-president, secretary, and assistant secretary of the Student Council. Installed in the National Honor Society were: Shirley Traylor, Cheryl Smith, Ina Fletcher, Valjeanne Jones, Jeannette Walker, Wanda Marshall, Gayle Ray, Naomi Green, Hilda Smith, Leon Creed, and Wanzie McAuley. Leon Creed held the distinction of being the only junior installed in the Quill and Scroll. Two of your classmates left Hillside to enter Durham High School as members of the junior class. They were Joyce Perry, and Earl Mason. Never will you forget the junior-senior prom which was a fabulous event. You chose "Hawaiian Cruse" as your theme. Leon Creed, Junior class president, received the key from the Senior class president. Marie Shaw sang for you that night. The Junior Waltz was the spectacular event of the evening. In the city-wide essay contest, "Durham's Most Needed Project for the Sixties," Mildretta Chatman, Jeannette Walker, and Wanzie McAuley won honorable mention. Perhaps the most exciting of all experiences was Hillside's victory on the television program "Hi Q." Doris Johnston, Wanzie McAuley, Ina Fletcher, Shirley Traylor were the panelists. Doris made the highest score of all previous contestants from all over the state.

Finally, after three years of waiting and learning, you entered your long-awaited senior year. Harriet Prince, Marva Bullock, Brenda Gunn, and Gloria Morris were admitted to Durham High School. Four of your classmates were appointed to head Hillside's main publications for the year. Doris Johnston was named editor-in-chief of the "Chronicle" and Julia Thorpe, co-editor. Jeannette Walker and Leon Creed were given the distinction of being appointed co-editors of the "62" Hornet. The Senior Class Officers were: Herman Graham, president; Earl Mason, vice-president; Saundra Criss, recording secretary; Maxine Murphy, corresponding secretary; Johnny Holmes, treasurer; George McFadden, parliamentarian; and Julia Thorpe, reporter; and Daye Reed, chairman of the Benevolence Committee. Gwendolyn Green added a spark to your Homecoming Festivities by being crowned "Miss Homecoming" with Wanda Marshall and Janet Hill serving as attendants. 12-4 won the Combined Charities Drive for the eighth consecutive year. Being the first girl elected president of the Student Council, in many years Jane Sampson proved to be an excellent leader. You who served in other capacities were: Charles Clinton, Aretta Bailey, Johnny Holmes, and "Biff" Henderson; vice-president, assistant secretary, treasurer and parliamentarian, respectively. Your class colors were midnight blue and white and the class flower was the American Beauty Rose. Installed in the National Honor Society were: Doris Johnston, Victoria Joyner, John Tuck, Sandra Rogers, Geraldine Sanders, Earl Mason and Judith Mitchell. Serving as officers of the group were, Wanzie McAuley, president; Naomi Green, vice-president; Shirley Traylor, secretary; and Cheryl Smith, treasurer. Senior members of the football team were: Raymond Johnson, John Faulkner and James Black, co-captains for the squad. Other teammates were: Authur Williams, Thomas Cameron, Arthur Spears, Daye Reed, James Devone, Albert Daniels, Kenneth Harris, George McFadden and Ronald Brown.

Basketball team members were, Earl Mason, John Faulkner, Dwight Midgette, Ronald Thomas, Leon Creed and Thomas Cameron.

Seniors, you came here new to it all and pushed your colors, your ways, and your ideas and yourselves into the pattern. You turned it whirled it and moved, and hurried sometimes with elation, cheers or grief. And it twisted at your touch, and a pattern emerged and it was the same after all, but different from the years before. It was hard to hold onto or pass on or show someone else as it changed all the time; even as you touched it and held it in your hands. Like the strings of the world in your hands, it changed.

For you, we leave your class motto: "If you have knowledge, Let others light their candles by it."

We, too, have been a part of these moments and have shared each one with you.

For, we are Gayle Ray and Cheryl Smith.

Homecoming

Homecoming, 1962 was an event that will stand out in the memories of all. Many hours were spent during the week building class floats, preparing for a student bonfire, choosing the queen and making sure everything was set for the big day.

Amidst screams, laughs, and cheers, the pep rally raised our hopes for victory to new heights.

The game at night was our only disappointment. We cheered loudly and our team did its best, but we were defeated by our Rocky Mount opponents.

Our busy exciting day came to an end, but Homecoming, 1962 will remain in the hearts of Hillsiders.

The year 1962 brought many more changes in the "Hornet." The use of more pages and color is the most noticeable change. New arrangements for juniors and sophomores were introduced. These along with the cover have given this year's annual a much more enchanting and desirable appearance.

CAREERS unlimited . . .

More and more people are buying life insurance to assure their financial security. As a result of this growth few, if any, businessmen in America offer a wider variety of employment for well-qualified young men and women.

For example, North Carolina Mutual has in its employ over fifth job categories; such as, salesmen, managers, executives, accountants, technicians, lawyers, doctors, stenographers, clerk, typists, and food service workers.

Whatever your field of specialization, there could well be a rewarding career for you in life insurance.

Congratulations and Best Wishes to the Seniors
